

Focus on the “How,” Not the “What”: Using Research to Inform Teaching

What is a potential research question/inquiry that you would be interested in investigating in your teaching? What are you curious to learn about your class and student learning in your class?	What data (evidence) could you use/collect in order to answer your question?	What are some potential challenges to pursuing this research question/inquiry?	What are some potential resources that you could use to address your challenges?