Students in Dr. Kothmann’s Mechanical Engineering and Applied Mechanics course are asked to create ePortfolios to document their work from start to finish. As part of the assignment, students reflect and draw conclusions about the process, course content, and their own learning.