

Detroit Community Food Co-op

Lan Ge (Urban Design), Elise Kulik (Social Work), Michelle Lin (Business administration and Natural Resources)

plaNMI

downtowns

energy agriculture

water

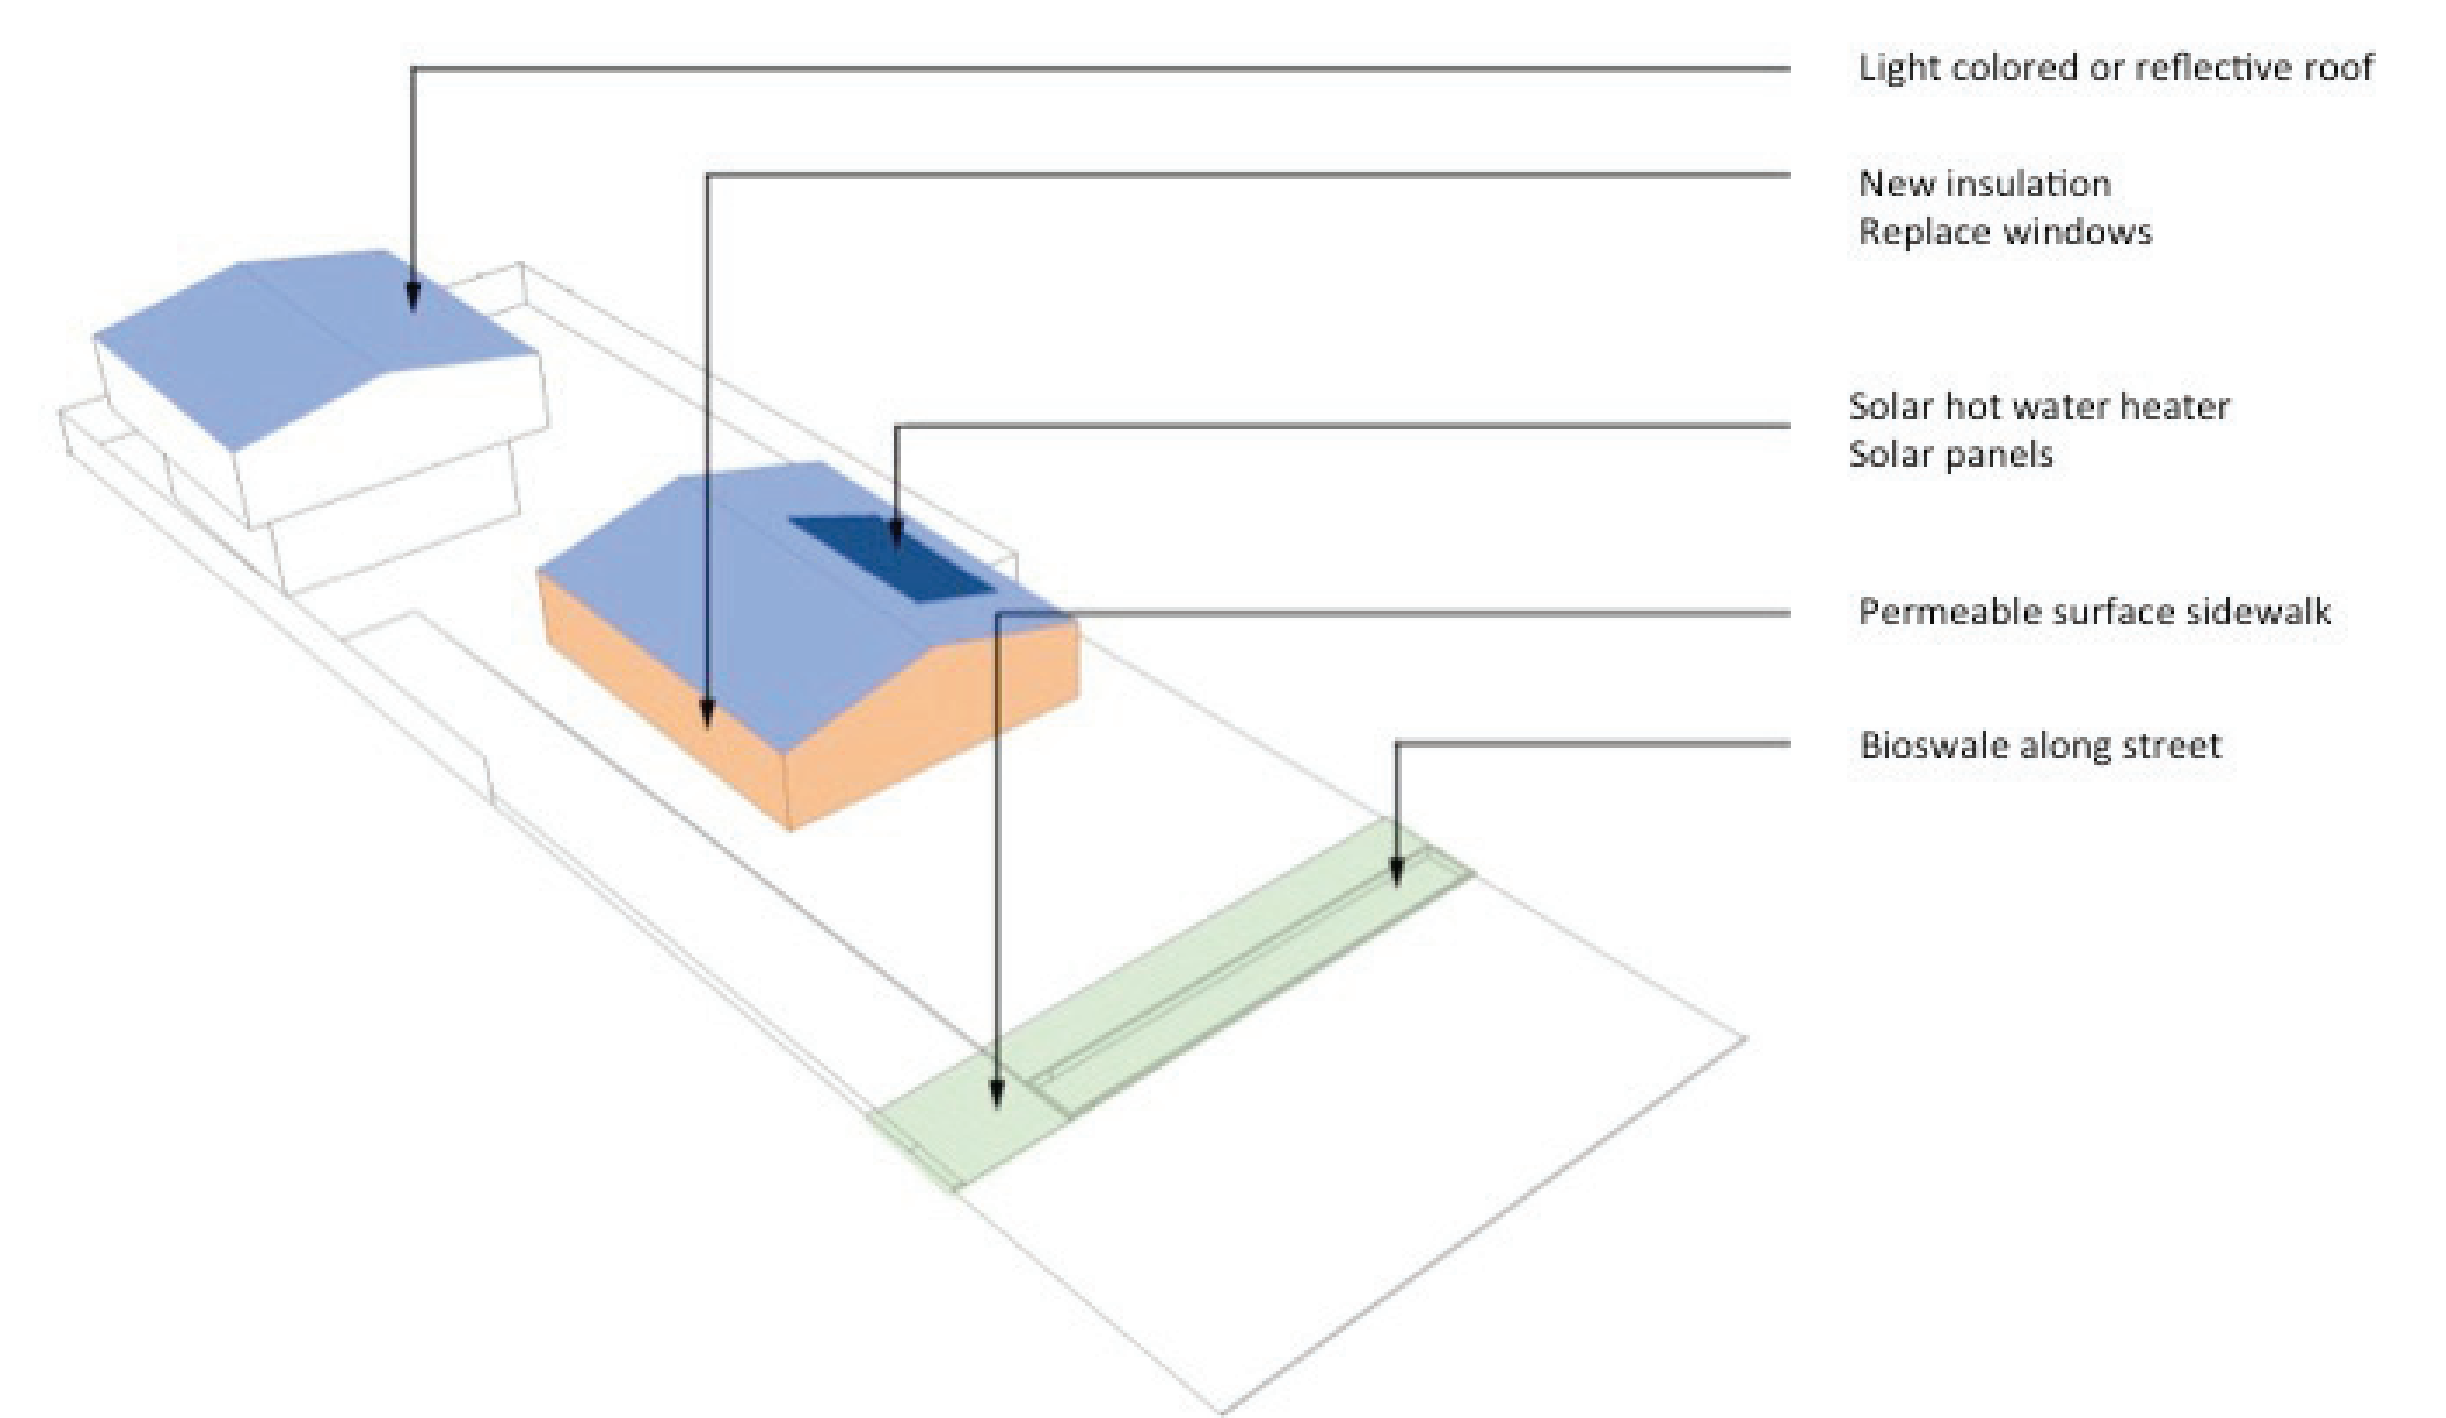

plaNMI: Green-branding Northern Michigan

Jake Anderson (Urban Planning), Keenan May (Architecture), Logan Sheehan (Urban Planning)

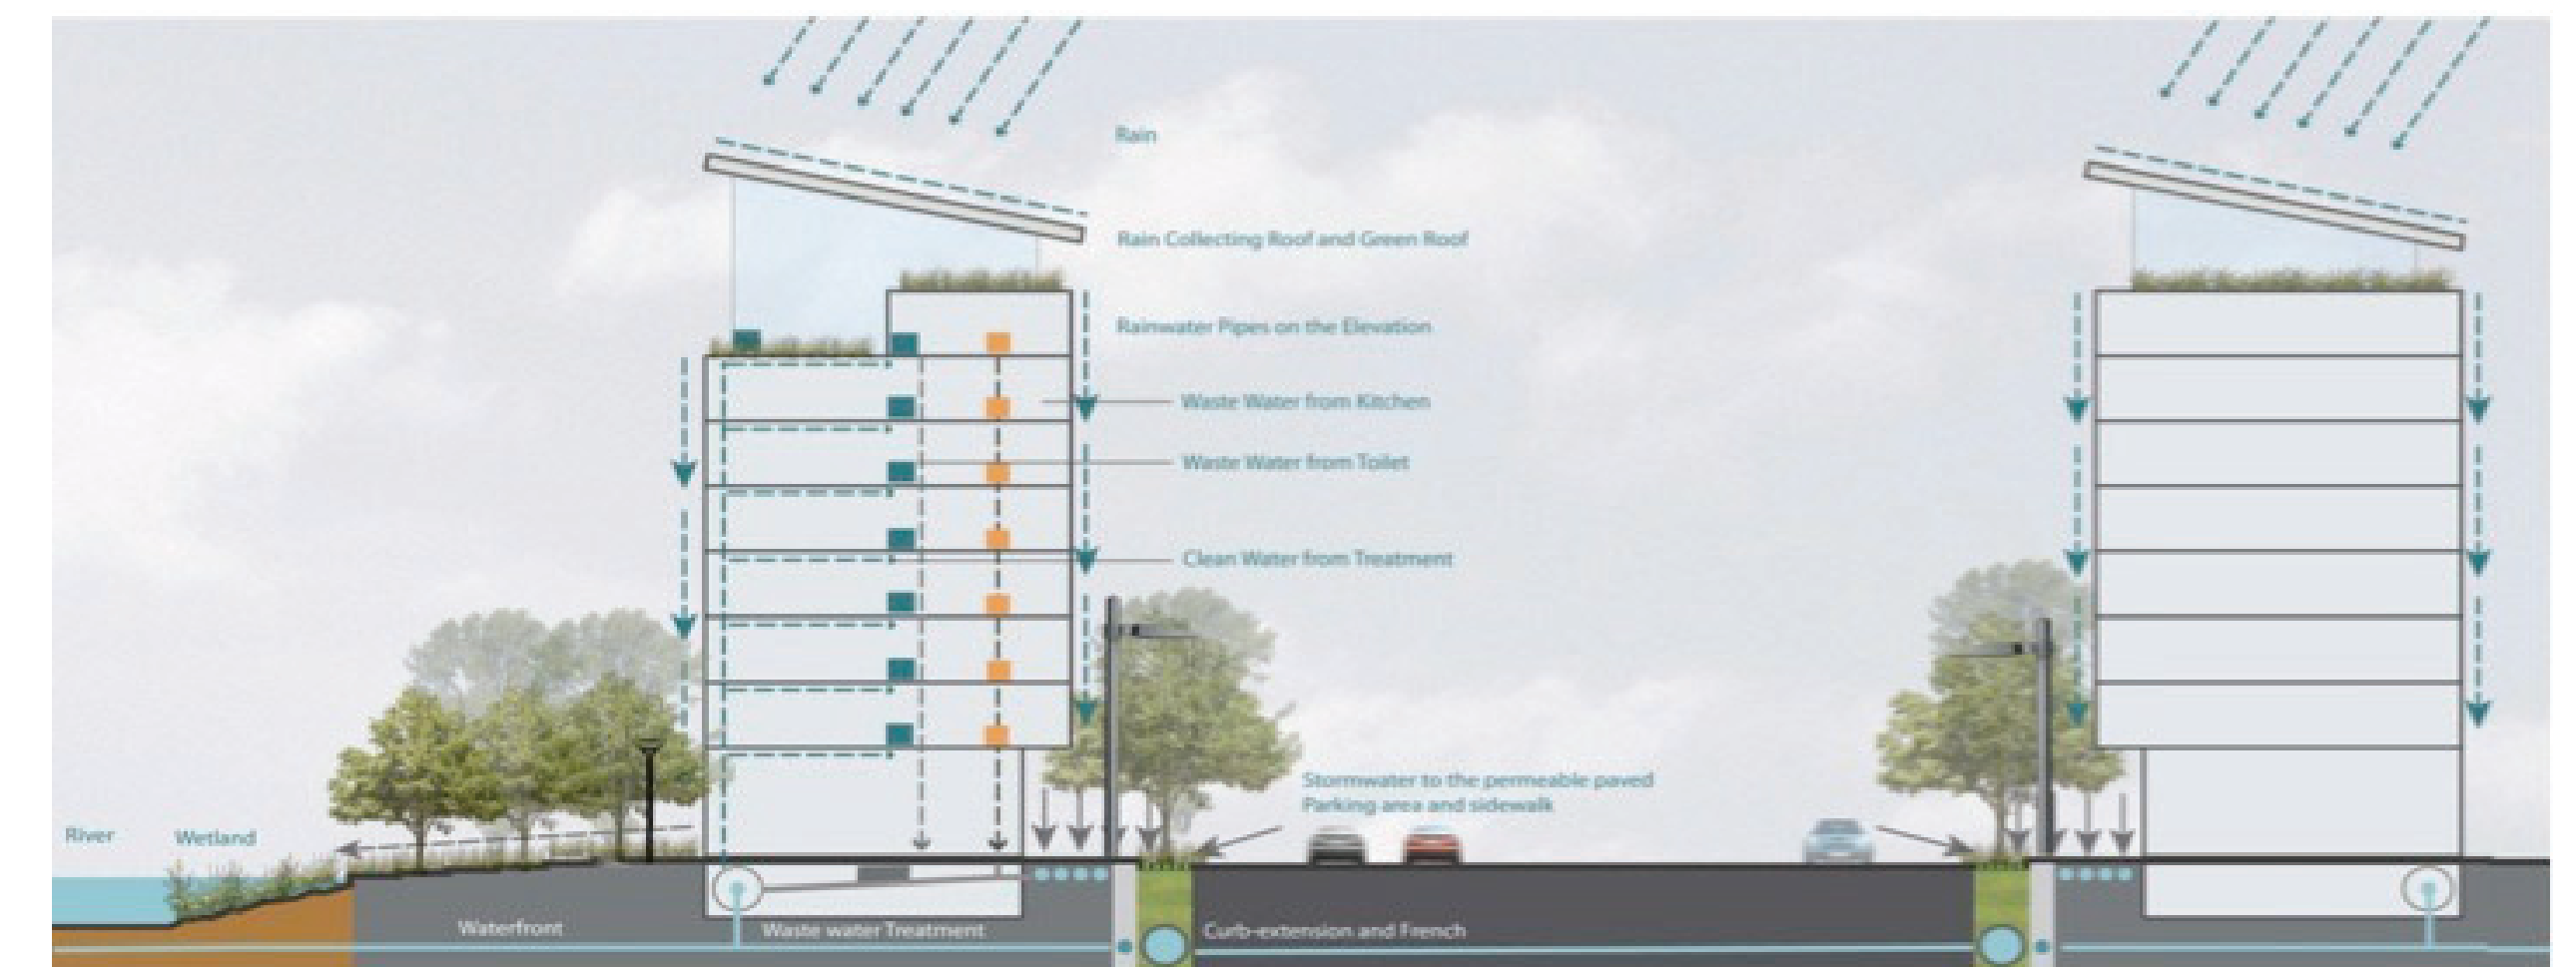

Livable Bus Stops: Using connectivity to rebuild Detroit neighborhoods

Jenna Agins (Business Administration and Natural Resources), Mrinali Borikar (Urban Design), Masahiro Enso (Public Policy), Alexander Robinson (Urban Planning), Tongtong Wang (Urban Design)

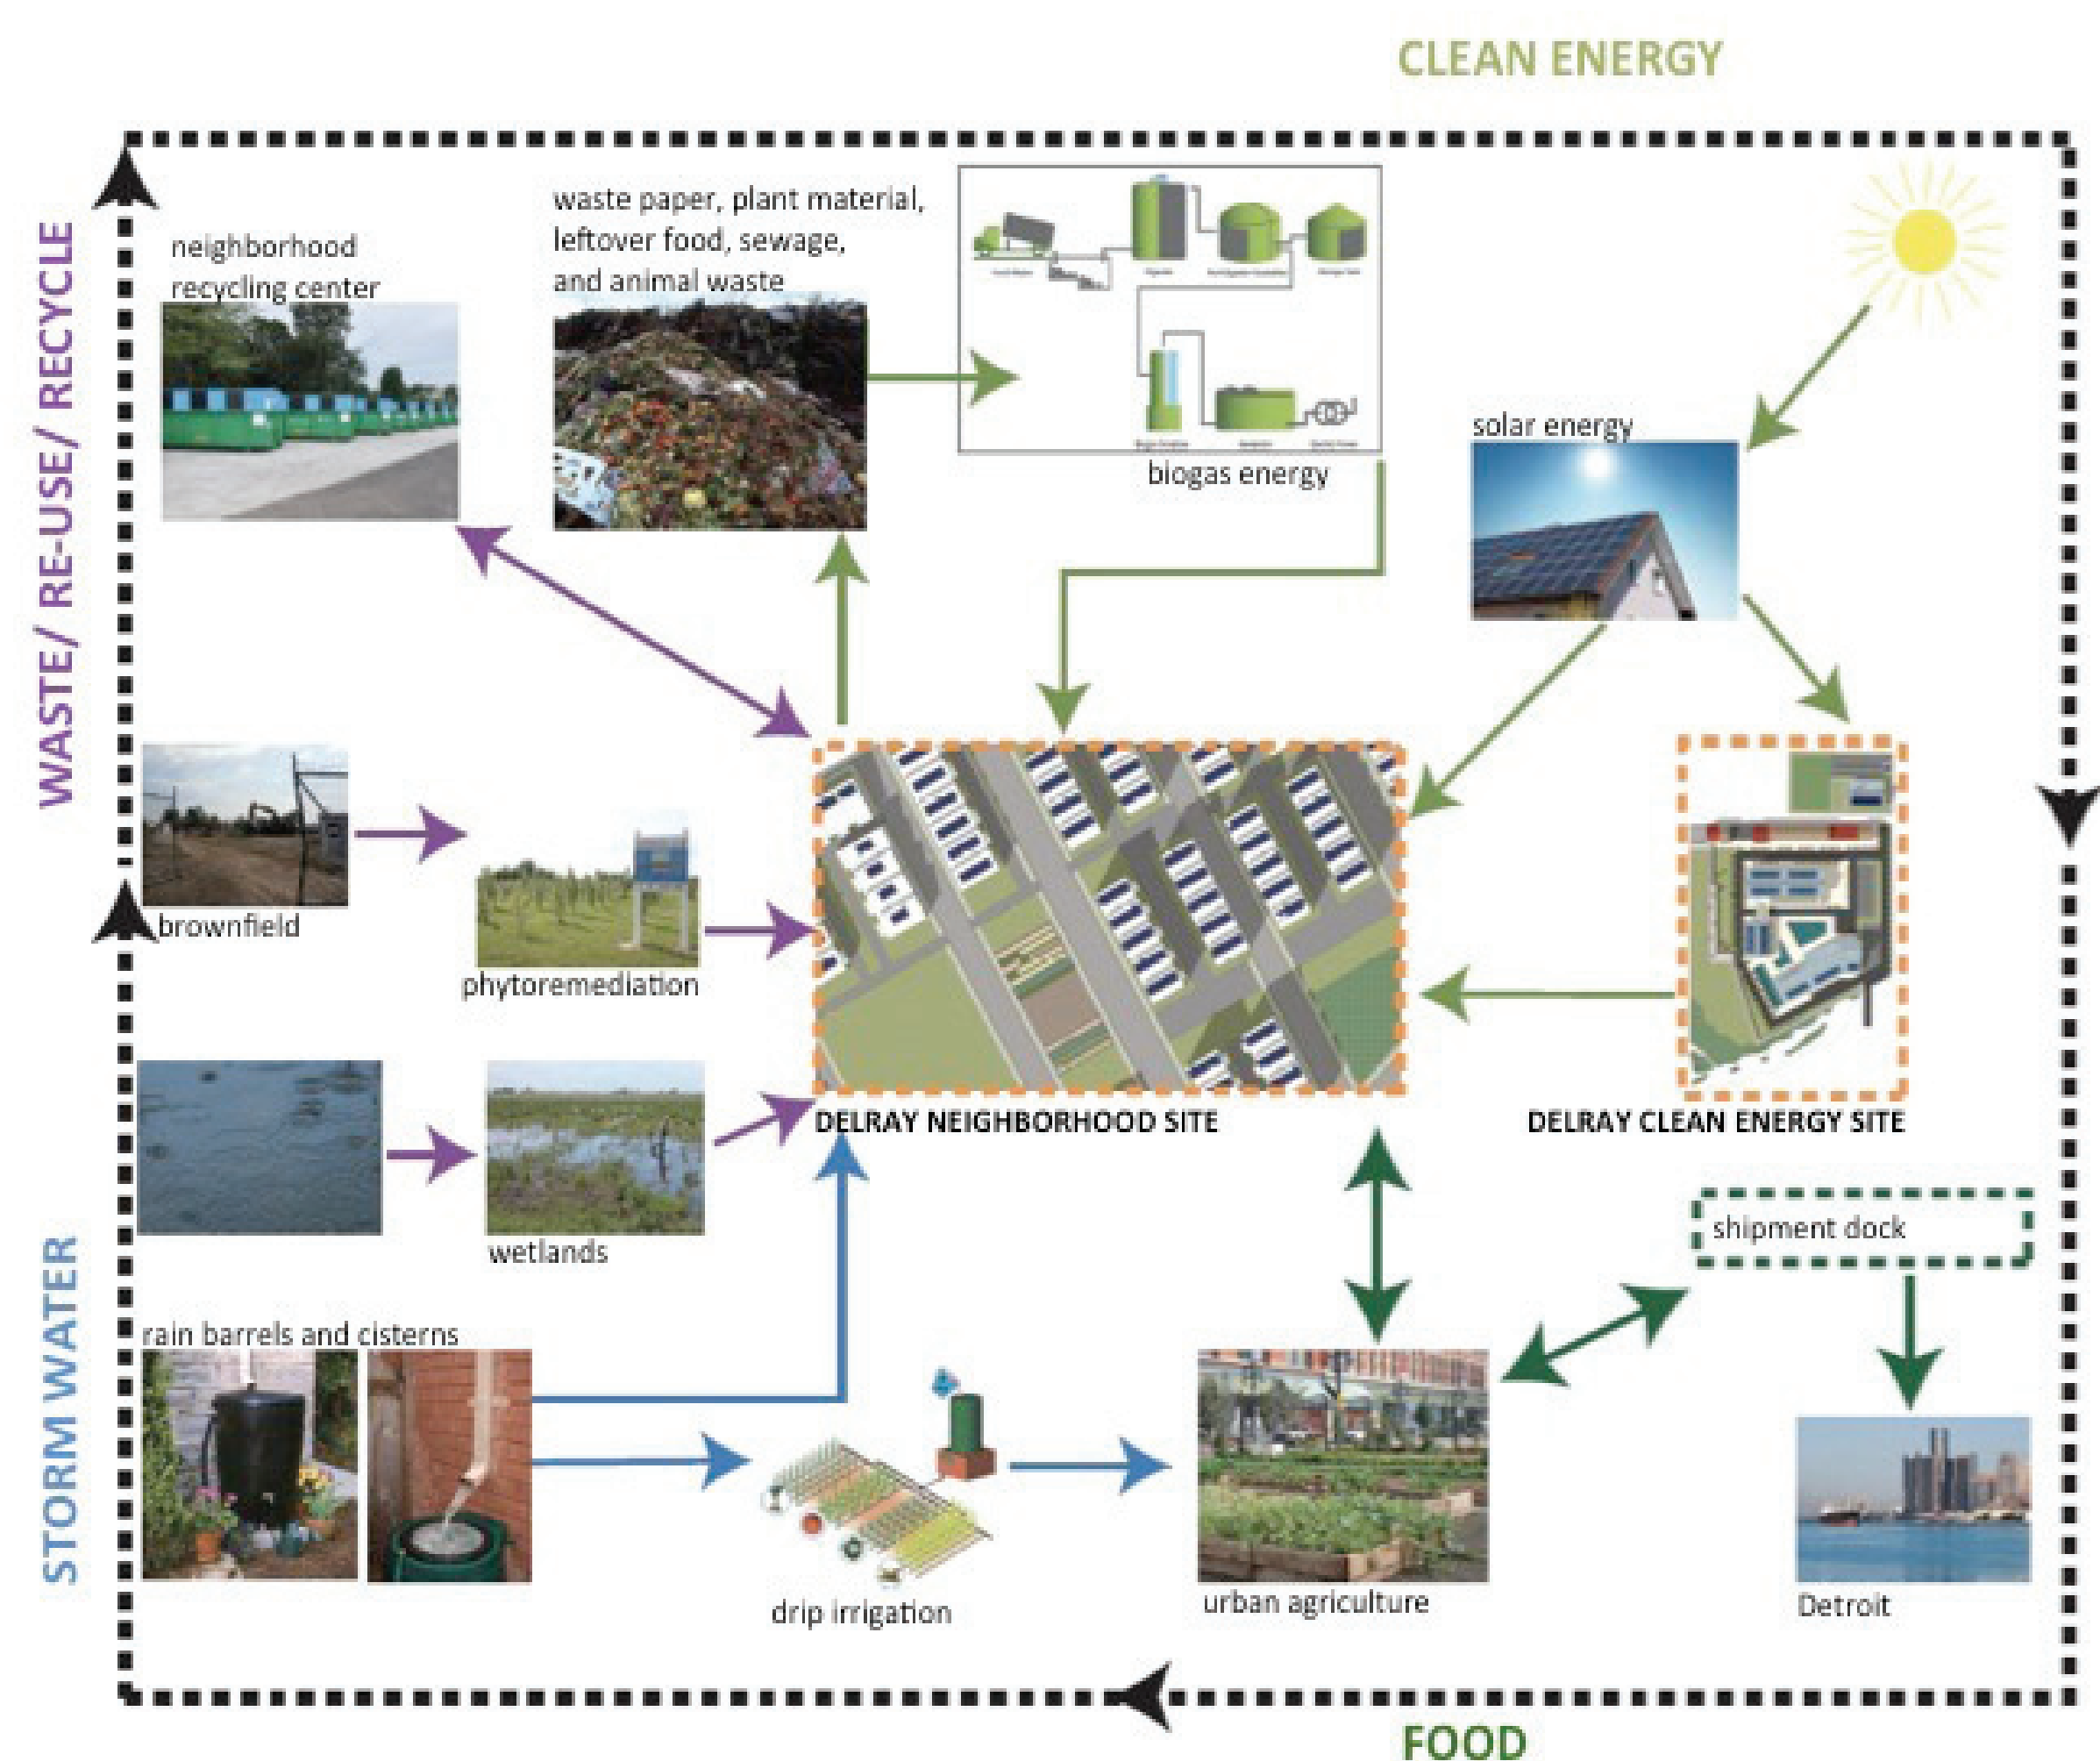

Retrofitting Warren: The sustainable transformation of a typical suburban neighborhood

Kelly Gregg (Urban Planning and Urban Design), Justin Garrison (Architecture), José Solís (Business Administration and Natural Resources), Kelsey Williams (Urban Design)

The Hydrolic Transect: Place-specific water management

Rui Qian (Urban Design), Peter Sanderson (Landscape Architecture), Jinwei Shi (Urban Design), Enying Xing (Urban Design)

The Delray Model: A sustainable net-zero development in southwest Detroit

Evis Bushi (Urban Planning and Urban Design), Kate Humphrey (Urban Planning), Marisa Lopez (Urban Design), Chen Qin (Urban Design)

Sustainable West Bloomfield

Vadim Avshalumov (Urban Planning), Yang-yu Huang (Urban Design), Yin Wang (Urban Design)

THE SUSTAINABLE CITY

Bringing students together from across disciplines to improve Michigan's built environment

Robert Fishman and Kit Krankel McCullough, Taubman College of Architecture and Urban Planning

student projects from UD 729 The Sustainable City, Winter 2012