

Provost's Seminar on Teaching
Tuesday, November 2, 2010, 1:00-5:00 p.m.
Vandenberg Room, Michigan League

Educating Globally Competent Students

Agenda

1:00-2:00 Plenary Session Vandenberg Room

Welcome and Opening Remarks

Constance Cook – Associate Vice Provost; Executive Director, CRLT

Philip Hanlon – Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Keynote Address

Juan Cole – Richard P. Mitchell Collegiate Professor of History and Professor of Middle Eastern and South Asian History

2:10-3:10 Concurrent Sessions 1

◀ Globalizing the Curriculum Michigan Room (2nd floor)

This session features faculty panelists who have been instrumental in implementing changes in the undergraduate curriculum to provide students with more global and intercultural experiences.

Kenneth Kollman – Political Science, International Institute

Joseph Trumpey – Art & Design, and Natural Resources and Environment

Volker Sick – Engineering

◀ Using Technology for Global Learning Henderson Room (3rd floor)

How can faculty use technology to facilitate global learning? In this session, panelists share how they use technology to enable international and intercultural interactions within the U-M classroom.

Jennifer Yim – Global Scholars Program

Jeffrey Stanzler – Educational Studies

Gottfried Hagen – Near Eastern Studies

Rachael Criso – Romance Languages and Literatures

◀ Global Learning Off Campus Koessler Room (3rd floor)

What opportunities are there for U-M students beyond the traditional (and often costly) study abroad models? Faculty panelists address different global learning experiences for students off campus.

Nick Tobier – Art & Design

Craig Register – Residential College

June Thomas – Architecture and Urban Planning

Steven Wright – Engineering

◀ Leveraging a Global Student Body to Maximize Learning Kalamazoo Room (2nd floor)

In this interactive workshop participants will generate and discuss strategies for engaging U-M students from different national backgrounds to maximize learning in the classroom.

Elizabeth Axelson – English Language Institute

Pamela Bogart – English Language Institute

3:20-4:20 Concurrent Sessions 2 (See descriptions on reverse side)

- ◀ Globalizing the Curriculum Michigan Room (2nd floor)
- ◀ Using Technology for Global Learning Henderson Room (3rd floor)
- ◀ Global Learning Off Campus Koessler Room (3rd floor)
- ◀ Leveraging a Global Student Body to Maximize Learning Kalamazoo Room (2nd floor)

4:30-4:45 Participants' Discussion Vandenberg Room (2nd floor)

4:45-5:00 Closing Comments

Mark Tessler – Vice Provost for International Affairs and Samuel J. Eldersveld Collegiate Professor of Political Science

Members of the Provost's Seminar Planning Committee

Amy Conger

Director of International Programs
College of Engineering

A.T. Miller

Director of the Center for Global and Intercultural
Study, LS&A

Constance Cook

Associate Vice Provost for Academic Affairs
Executive Director, Center for Research on Learning and Teaching
Clinical Professor of Higher Education

Catherine Reischl

Clinical Associate Professor of Educational Studies
School of Education

Kenneth Kollman

Acting Vice-Provost for International Affairs,
Political Science, Center for International and Comparative Studies, International Institute

Janet Shier

Director of the German Program
Residential College, LS&A

Joseph Trumpey

Associate Professor of Art and Design
School of Art & Design

Stiliana Milkova

Assistant Director, CRLT

Associate Professor of Natural Resources and Environment

